

May 8, 2020

Hello TCD Students and Families,

As the 2019-2020 school year comes to a close, I wanted to make you aware of a few end of the year items.

- Attached to this message, you will find a schedule for curbside pick-up that will begin on Monday, May 11. All belongings that remained in student's lockers have been bagged up for curbside pick-up. Please come in during your scheduled time if you wish to collect your belongings. Cosmetology Phase 1 students will have a different schedule that will be shared next week to come in and collect their belongings.
- Today is the last day that teachers will be posting any new work for students to complete for the year. The only exception to this will be students that are still completing work towards certification. Students need to complete all work to improve their high school grade prior to their last day for their home school. TCD Teachers will still be available to assist students with assignments through May 21, 2020.
- TCD will be running cosmetology summer school online for the months of June and July. More details will be sent to all cosmetology students next week.
- Any TCD student that was not keeping up with work and maintaining a C or better for their dual credit course(s) was withdrew today. This does not pertain to the high school grade, only for the requirements to receive dual credit.
- In some of our programs, students still have some requirements for certification that need to be completed over the summer. The program instructor will be reaching out to the students that need to still complete certification requirements regarding how that can be finished once our Region of the State moves to Phase 3 according to the Governor's Plan.
